Welcome to the 29th Annual Ironman Wrestling Tournament and 1st Women of Ironman Tournament

December 8th, 9th & 10th, 2023

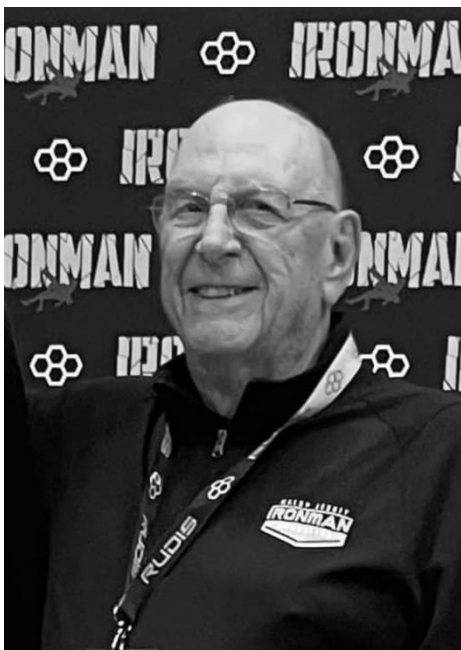

The evolution of the Ironman wrestling tournament continues with the addition of the women's division as the tournament's staff strives to make the 2023 Ironman the most popular and best in-season high school tournament in the country. This year's lineup of schools and wrestlers will be up to the usual standards of previous events.

The Ironman Wrestling Tournament is the original model of a proven, competitive wrestling tournament that has subsequently developed itself as the standard by which other similar tournaments are compared. Of course, this claim is further supported by the most comprehensive and in-depth data documented elsewhere in this periodical.

On behalf of Ironman Tournaments, LLC and our host school Walsh Jesuit we extend a warm welcome to the coaches, wrestlers and wrestling fans that have come to support their teams. Welcome also to collegiate coaches who will attend this event –you will see the best wrestlers in the United States this weekend! The Ironman Wrestling Tournament is a collaborative effort of our entire Ironman community and is successful largely because of the efforts of Walsh's coaches, students, parents, alumni and staff who willingly give their time and talents. Special thanks to the Ironman Tournament Director Pete Zaccari and his staff. Special acknowledgement and thanks to Boys and Girls Team Selection & Seeding Directors (Corey Haddad and Jenn Bernard) and our high-powered technical staff of Chris Kallai, Sr. and Chris Kallai, Jr. for their expertise and tireless efforts to make this tournament that Sports Illustrated has called "the toughest high school tournament in the nation." Please enjoy yourselves this weekend. This is the best wrestling you will ever see. Please remember to "RESPECT THE GAME" and show good sportsmanship to all athletes, coaches, and officials. GOOD LUCK to all wrestlers.

In Memory Of JOHN MASCIO

The Ironman family is mourning the loss of the tournaments "Godfather", John Mascio. John was loved by all and a great mentor and friend to many.

In 2022 we introduced a new award called the "Mascio Ultimate Warrior Award".

This award emulated John's dedication and devotion to the Ironman tournament from the beginning. John will be greatly missed at the tournament this year but we know his spirit will be there with us all.

The Origin of The Bill Barger Outstanding Wrestler Award

The 1994 Walsh Jesuit wrestling team was the catalyst that enabled Bill Barger to invite the best competition he could find to the Inaugural Ironman in 1994. After traveling for years to compete against the best competition he could find, Bill wanted a shot at this competition on his home court. Just fifteen schools were present in the field. However, it was a very robust field with power programs present from multiple states. The host school, Walsh Jesuit, was in the midst of its heyday run in which it would win multiple national titles and state tournament titles.

The squad Walsh Jesuit put on the mat at that first Ironman, one that they won, would go onto set an Ohio state tournament point scoring record for all divisions. They scored 203 points, the first time a team went over 200; the record would last for ten seasons.

A flurry of early pins allowed the Warriors to score 103.5 points on the first day to lead Northampton, PA by 31 points. Walsh advanced six wrestlers to the championship round and led Northampton by 18 points, but after the Warriors lost their first three matches, Northampton won its first three title bouts and sliced Walsh's lead from 18 to 9 points. However, Scott Overholt stopped the Walsh skid with a 3-1 win in a slam-bang 160-pound bout in which Overholt trailed until the third period. Now it has become a head-to-head confrontation with Northampton and Walsh facing each other in the 189 and 215 title matches. Those late bouts pitted Walsh's Joey O'Neill and Northampton's Craig Fenstermaker at 189 and sophomore Warrior Jeff Knupp against Northampton's Rick Umstead. Northampton again cut into Walsh's lead when Fenstermaker scored a 5-3 decision over O'Neill in overtime, but Knupp saved the tourney for Walsh with a convincing 8-2 win over Umstead which gave the Warriors its first and only Ironman team title. Many wrestling historians will argue that Ironman I was the most competitive tournament ever. Eight wrestlers from the fifteen schools went on to become collegiate NCAA All-Americans. Eric Guererro became a three-time NCAA champion and four-time All-American at Oklahoma State, and a USA Olympian in 2004. Joe Heskett (Walsh Jesuit and Iowa State) won one NCAA championship and became a four-time All-American; Rob Rohn (Northampton and Lehigh) became an NCAA champion; Bryan Snyder (Easton and Nebraska) became a four-time All American. Scott Overholt and Jeff Knupp were the lone champions for the Warriors in that first event.

The John Mascio Ultimate Warrior Award

The “John Mascio Ultimate Warrior Award” is presented to the unseeded wrestler who places highest in the tournament among all weight classes. It is an entirely objective award and recognizes an outstanding effort by a wrestler who doesn’t stand at the top of a podium. No other tournament has an award that recognizes the achievements of an unseeded wrestler.

A large wrestler from a small school situated on the Ohio River in southeastern Ohio earned the first annual “John Mascio Ultimate Wrestler Award” when Point Pleasant (WV) junior heavyweight Kolton Weaver finished eighth as an unseeded wrestler. “I was humbled to win the Ultimate Warrior Award. It’s a great honor”, said Weaver. Point Pleasant coach John Bonecutter was very proud for his wrestler. “I think it’s a wonderful award that recognizes the accomplishment of an individual that defies all odds. Point Pleasant High School is extremely honored to be able to say we had the first Ultimate Warrior ever at the Ironman”.

Coach Bonecutter plans to return to the Ironman competition in 2023 because he says “The Ironman Tournament is the toughest tournament in the country! Competing at this prestigious event helps our team see the best competition and gets us ready to make a postseason run in West Virginia”.

Weaver is also looking forward to this year’s event. “My goal for this year is to continue to improve on my performance and placement. I just want to put a good product out on the mat”.

Kolton was crowned the 285 lb State Champion In West Virginia this past Spring. Congratulations!

If necessary, the following tiebreakers will be used to determine the winner: 1. Most pins, 2. Most Pins, least time 3. Most Tech Falls, least time, 4. Most single match points, 5. Most total match points. This award is named in honor and memory of John Mascio, shown here, who was one of the initial founders of the IRONMAN tournament. John served as Bill Barger’s right-hand man from the inception of the IRONMAN and remains very involved to this day. This award emulates John in his dedication and tireless devotion to the IRONMAN’s success. The wrestler who wins this award has worked against the odds to find success in one of the toughest tournaments in the country.

The Major Ray Mendoza Award

The “Major Ray Mendoza Award” was created in 2009 to honor Major Ray Mendoza, an outstanding Blair Academy and Ohio State wrestler, who was killed-in-action in Iraq in 2005. The Mendoza Award is an entirely objective selection given to the wrestler who earns the most team points at the tournament. This award is given at only three tournaments a year: The IRONMAN, Beast of the East, and the National Prep Tournament.

The Mendoza Award has proven to be a great prediction of future greatness. Past winners have achieved:

One Olympic Gold Medal

Two World Champion Gold Medals

One World Champion Silver Medal

Nine NCAA Championships

Forty-one NCAA All American Places

Through The Years

Ironman Recaps 1994 - 2022

1994

Host Walsh Jesuit was ranked number one nationally and had claimed national championships in 1993 and 1994. Walsh advanced six wrestlers to the championship round to give the Warriors its first and only Ironman team title. Eight wrestlers from the fifteen schools went on to become collegiate NCAA All-Americans. Eric Guererro became a three-time NCAA champion and four-time All-American at Oklahoma State, and a USA Olympian in 2004. Joe Heskett (Walsh Jesuit and Iowa State) won one NCAA championship and became a four-time All-American; Rob Rohn (Northampton and Lehigh) became an NCAA champion; Bryan Snyder (Easton and Nebraska) became a four-time All-American.

1995

Walsh Jesuit put its number one national ranking and Ironman I championship on the line in this second annual event. Blair Academy of New Jersey, ranked number two was making their first appearance in the Ironman. Blair went on to claim four individual champions as they piled up 207 points to win their first Ironman championship. Walsh's Sonny Marchette faced Easton's Jamarr Billman in the marquee match of the tournament. Marchette took the offensive from the start and never let up in a 7-4 victory at 135 pounds.

1996

In a tournament that was loaded with national powers St. Edward won the event with 212.5 points. With three individual champions the Eagles dethroned Calvary Chapel as the number one team in the nation. Easton's Jamarr Billman avenged his loss to Sonny Marchette in the 1995 finals when he defeated Marchette 6-5 with a takedown in the last 21 seconds.

1997

CVCA freshman Harry Lester wrestled his first high school match in this rugged Ironman Invitational. Lester edged a worthy opponent in Cory Cooperman of Blair Academy 5-4 in the semifinals and proceeded to win his first of three Ironman titles. St. Edward team looked like a defending champion as the Eagles talented squad dominated the field to win its second consecutive Ironman title with a then record 239 points.

1998

In the team race, Blair Academy scored 208 to win their second team title in a tense battle with St. Edward but the night belonged to Harry Lester, who won the 112-pound title in an emotional and intense match up of Division I and Division III OHSAA 103-pound champions. It was not long after this tournament that St. Edward coach Greg Urbas coined his classis phrase: "The Ironman is where state champs come to die"

1999

Lakewood St. Edward entered one if it's strongest teams in school history. Harry Lester was missing in action. After two brilliant Ironman performances as a freshman and sophomore, the two-time Ironman and Ohio state champion, Lester suffered a broken ankle in his team's last football game, forcing him to miss the tournament. With eight victories in the semifinal round, St. Edward continued to light up the scoreboard and finished with five individual champions and a tournament record 297 points.

2000

This turn of the century Ironman tournament was billed as "The Ironman's best field, team-wise and individually, since its first year in 1994. St. Edward won this Invitational with 264.5 points. Blair Academy, ranked number one in several national polls, was second with 240 points. Harry Lester won his third Ironman title and was named the OWA for the second time. Several Ironman champs went on to win NCAA title.

2001

The Ironman had always been known as being fiercely competitive among its participants. It was now gaining national notoriety as a tournament. "This tournament is eye-opening reality," Walsh coach Bill Barger said. The Ironman is not a state tournament, it's a national tournament." Eight of the top 34 teams in the country were entered in the event. Top ranked Blair Academy won with 287.5 points (second best in tournament history).

2002

This ninth Ironman tournament attracted Wrestling USA magazine's top three teams, Blair Academy (NJ), St. Paris Graham (OH) and Great Bridge (VA). In addition, the list of champions was a virtual who's who of the national wrestling scene, including top-ranked C.P. Schlatter of St. Paris Graham (152), Mark Perry (160) of Blair, Daniel Frishkorn of Great Bridge (130), Coleman Scott (112) of Waynesburg (PA), and Jake Herbert (171) North Allegheny (PA). Blair Academy overtook St. Paris Graham, scoring 231½ points to 215.

2003

Entering its 10th year, the Ironman tournament was attracting most of the top teams in the country to become "The Cavalcade of Stars." Talented teams and talented individuals would become the norm; the tournament action would speak for itself and gave the fans more matches to store in their memory banks. Blair's overall team depth was too much for the field. Blair had placers in all 14 weight classes to top the field with 273 points.

2004

It was wrestling "Showtime" once again at Walsh Jesuit High School. The field was set and wrestling fans who were looking for a glaring real-life preview of what the 2004-05 season would be need look no further than the 11th annual Walsh Jesuit Ironman tournament. Seven of the top-ranked teams in the nation were entered. In the team race, No. 1 Blair edged No. 2 Great Bridge, 213 ½ points to 212, the closest finish since the Ironman started in 1994. The final match of the tournament at 125 pounds between Jordan Frishkorn (Great Bridge) and Cameron Doggett (St. Paris Graham) determined the team championship. "I have been to them all," tournament director Bob Preusse said. "This was the BEST Ironman ever in terms of the great team race that will be talked about for many years."

2005

In classic fashion, St. Edward and Blair Academy were deadlocked at 154 ½ points entering the finals. In the second closest team race in the 12-year history of this tournament, Blair Academy edged out St. Edward for the team title, 170 ½ points to 166 ½. Freshman David Taylor (St. Paris Graham) won his first Ironman championship when he edged Boris Novachkov (Fremont) 4-3 at 103 pounds. Blair Academy took home its fifth consecutive team title and seventh overall. David Taylor won his first Ironman title at 103 pounds.

2006

St. Edward ended six years of frustration when the Eagles topped the 51-team field, including their nemesis from New Jersey. With one individual champion in senior Chris Honeycutt (189 Pounds), St. Edward rolled up 260 points, 23 better than Blair Academy. The one match Ironman fans and coaches will talk most about for a long time occurred in a 140 pound semifinal bout. In Ironman lore it will be known as "the shot heard round the world." St. Edward senior Shawn Harris pinned the No. 1-rated wrestler in the country and defending Ironman Champion, junior Zack Kemmerer, (Upper Perkiomen, PA), in the fourth and final overtime. Sophomore David Taylor won his second consecutive 103-pound title with a 7-3 decision over Logan Stieber (Monroeville). The loss would go down as the only defeat Stieber would suffer in his four-year high school career.

2007

St. Paris Graham, the nation's pre-season No. 2 ranked team, became the second school other than Blair Academy or Lakewood St. Edward, to claim the Ironman team title. Walsh Jesuit won the inaugural tournament in 1994. In the ensuing 12 years, Blair captured seven team titles and St. Edward claimed five. The Falcons scored 247 ½ points and had one individual champion in David Taylor (112), who won his third consecutive Ironman title. Monroeville freshman Chris Phillips stunned the nation's No.1 ranked 171-pounder, St. Edward state champ Brian Roddy in the finals, 7-3, with three lightning-quick takedowns. David Taylor won his third Ironman title at 112 pounds.

2008

Befitting of all the talent he displayed in the previous three Ironman tournaments, St. Paris Graham senior and three-time state champ David Taylor (135) became the first wrestler to become a four time champion. As expected, Blair Academy of New Jersey, the nation's No. 1 ranked team won with 282½ points. No. 2-ranked St. Paris Graham, winners of the last eight Division II state titles, was second with 234 points.

2009

Blair Academy won their 9th team title with 196 team points Three-time Ohio state champion, No. 1 ranked Logan Stieber (Monroeville) won his second Ironman championship by defeating No. 2 ranked and defending Ironman champion Devin Carter (Christiansburg) 10-4. National Prep champion, No.1 ranked Chris Villalonga (Blair Academy) accomplished an Ironman hat trick by winning his third consecutive championship. With the victory, Villalonga became the fifth wrestler in Ironman history to become a four-time finalist.

2010

Emerging with the championship was St. Paris Graham, Ohio in a close battle with Blair Academy, (198 to 192) to win a second title in three years. Hunter Stieber (Monroeville, Ohio) earned Outstanding Wrestler honors after winning the last match of the finals session by 3-2. decision over Austin Ormsbee (Blair Academy, New Jersey) – a battle of the top two ranked wrestlers in the nation at the weight class. This was a fourth consecutive finals match appearance for Stieber.. Also in the tournament field was the best scholastic wrestler in the country as designated by the Dave Schultz Memorial Excellence Award, Morgan McIntosh (Calvary Chapel, California) – the champion at 189 pounds.

2011

As with the seventeen prior editions of the tournament, the 2011 Walsh Jesuit Ironman Wrestling Tournament had a stellar field and spectacular matches from start to finish. In fact, so stellar was the field that seven participants in the tournament ended the season ranked first in the country. Winning their 10th team title in the 18-year history of the tournament was Blair Academy. The Buccaneers scored a narrow 252-1/2 to 240-1/2 victory over St. Edward.126 pound champion Dean Heil was named the tournament's Outstanding Wrestler. Zahid Valencia (St. John Bosco) won his first Ironman title.

2012

Heading into this 19th edition of the Walsh Jesuit Ironman, three wrestlers had the chance to join a select few to win three championships at this tournament. All three of them succeeded. Nathan Tomasello (CVCA), Bo Jordan (St. Paris Graham, Ohio), Brooks Black (Blair Academy), Blair Academy dominated the team standings with 240-1/2 points Second place in the team standings was No. 2 Wyoming Seminary, Pa. with 156 points. Zahid Valencia (St. John Bosco) won his second Ironman title.

2013

The 20th annual Walsh Jesuit Ironman certainly lived up to its position as the nation's best in-season tournament. Blair Academy won their third straight Ironman title, scoring 207-1/2 points. The individual star was Spencer Lee (Franklin Regional, Pa.), the champion at 113 pounds. The nation's top-ranked wrestler in the weight class, and also the top overall freshman in the country, won both the Most Outstanding Wrestler award and the Ray Mendoza Award (scoring the most team points in the tournament). Zahid Valencia (St. John Bosco) won a third Ironman title.

2014

The tournament would end with the 182 pound match, a showdown of the nation's top two ranked wrestlers in the weight class, Zahid Valencia (St. John Bosco, Calif.) and Myles Martin (McDonogh, Md.). Also on the line was a potential fourth Ironman title for Valencia, who would become just the second wrestler to become a four-time Ironman champion. In the ultimate tiebreaker Valencia rode out Martin, giving Valencia his fourth title, and the tournament's Most Outstanding Wrestler award. St. Paris Graham won the team title with 211 points.

2015

Wyoming Seminary, Pa. emerged as tournament champions scored a total of 171 points. It was the first team championship for the Blue Knights, who became just the fifth school to win a title in the event, joining Walsh Jesuit which won the initial title; as well as Blair Academy, St. Paris Graham, and St. Edward. The lone wrestler to win a second Ironman title was Alex Marinelli (St. Paris Graham). Marinelli was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Wrestler.
